

FIG. 3.14 Indium O-ring seal designs. Each diagram is a section out of the right side of a tubular seal. In the first design, a bolt flange is machined into the two stainless steel tubes to be joined. In the second and third designs, external clamps are used to bolt the two tubes together.