

FIG. 7.21 Fuzz buttons for making electrical pressure contacts to small contact pads or device leads. Each fuzz button consists of a fine single strand of springy gold-plated beryllium copper wire compressed into a cylindrical form. Diameters typically range from a few tenths of a millimeter to about a millimeter.